

WOODSTOCK 1969: TUNES OF PEACE, LOVE, AND MUSIC

In 1969, New York's Hudson Valley was transformed when cultures and counter-cultures melted together to bring us Woodstock: Three Days of Peace, Love, and Music. Alex shares some of the day's greatest hits, as well as hits from bands that performed there, on his electric cello while also offering historical background on the region's rich history.

With a Little Help from My Friends: Joe Cocker

Feelin' Alright: Joe Cocker

We Shall Overcome: Joan Baez

Fortunate Son: Creedence Clearwater Revival

God Bless the Child: Blood, Sweat, & Tears

Me and Bobby McGee: Janis Joplin

Pinball Wizard: The Who

Mississippi Queen: Mountain

White Rabbit: Jefferson Airplane

Purple Haze: Jimi Hendrix

Woodstock: Joni Mitchell